You Are Valued!

George Foster

God has given you immeasurable worth! He created you, knows you, loves you, calls you, and desires to empower you to be the person of amazing useful value He designed you to be.

He values the person you are, believes in the person you can become, and offers you all the grace you need to develop and use your gifts and abilities to achieve what He has planned for you.

He loves you as you are, but His love is too great to leave you as you are! As you commit yourself to Him and trust Him to work in you, He will help you through each challenge and struggle you face and you will be thankful, enriched, and better equipped because of them.

So rise up in His grace! Allow Him to unleash the potential He has invested in you. Put aside self-imposed limitations and live for His maximum glory. Transform the intrinsic worth He has given you into useful value that you can give back to Him—for your good, the good of your family and the good of all.
